

BOARD STAFF COMMUNICATION

The basic line of communication between the Board and its employees, including principals, teachers, and support staff, should be through the Superintendent and/or designee. This policy shall be implemented in a way that supports the constitutional right of any district employee to communicate with his or her duly elected Trustee(s) or of the right of any Trustee to communicate with his or her constituents. This right of communication shall not, however, be used as a method of circumventing the chain of command that is otherwise established by board policy.
