

SCHOOL PROPERTIES DISPOSITION

When equipment, books, and materials become worn out, obsolete, surplus, or otherwise unusable in the schools, the superintendent or his/her designee may authorize their disposal by sale or otherwise .

To assure all members of the public an equal opportunity in purchasing items with a unit resale value over $500, all sales must be advertised in advance through the school district website.

Board approval is required to dispose of property that was procured by the competitive bidding process as defined in state statute.

Surplus real estate shall be sold or otherwise disposed of in accordance with state law.
